Guest Presenters Profile

David Bell – Niagara Ice Dogs Assistant Coach

In 2013, David Bell joined the Niagara Ice Dogs as their new Assistant Coach. Bell comes to Niagara after having spent the previous season as an Assistant Coach with the Sudbury Wolves. Prior to that Bell had previously served as Head Coach and General Manager of the Quad City Mallards of the CHL for a season.

Bell also has past experience working with Ice Dogs Head Coach, Marty Williamson, having served as an Assistant Coach for the Barrie Colts with Williamson in 2009-10 and then with Dale Hawerchuk in 2010-11. The season coaching with Williamson included the Colts run to the OHL Finals in 2010. Overall, Bell has nine seasons of coaching experience between the OHL, AHL and CHL, having played in the OHL with the Ottawa 67's and in 471 professional games between the AHL, ECHL and UHL.

"I really think this is the best fit for me since the first couple of years in Owen Sound, which was my hometown" said Bell. "The familiarity with Marty, the success the organization has had since moving to Niagara, including the run to the OHL finals a couple of years ago, and the fact the new arena is coming all help to make it an ideal situation".
