

Kids Just Wanna Have Fun....Too!

Here are some comments from one of last year's younger participant:

"Muddy. Challenging. Breath-taking. These three words describe my first experience running edge the ledge. My name is madisyn and I am 10 years old. Edge the ledge made me more stronger. I wanted to give up but it was so fun. The run built me up because I had to use grit and determination. My favorite part was seeing you guys at the end of the finish line cheering us on. And I became stronger with that. I hope you keep doing that to other children."

*Sincerely,
madisyn jarvey*

Edge the Ledge Adventure Run, June 26 and the Caveman Adventure Run September 26 is not "For Adults Only."

Last year we offered both of these fun experiencers to kids ages 5-11. The Kid's obstacle event has a far more modified course about a half mile and very safe obstacles supported by volunteers that will help them if they need to. And yes, parents can do the event with them and there is no additional charge.

The Kid's Adventure run is right after the adult event. It makes for a great family outing. So kids get to slosh through the mud pit, go down the slippery slide and do other obstacles just like their parents.

About the event:

Each child receives a t shirt, medal and food after. More information can be found at dutrion.com Edger the Ledge and Caveman Adventure Run event page
