About George H. Carver

George Carver was born in London, England on February 13, 1896 and came to Canada with his parents at the age of 8 to Prince Edward County. After spending time overseas in the First World War, he was discharged in Halifax and joined the staff of the Halifax Herald. Following his experience with the Halifax Herald and later the Picton Gazette, George Carver joined the staff of the Belleville Ontario Intelligencer in June 1936.

From 1936 to 1968 Carver was a living sports legend at The Intelligencer as a sports writer-editor. His daily column "Sports Slices - Rare, Medium and Well Done" was among the most read items in the Intelligencer and was pinned on the wall in the sports department of the New York Times as an example of great writing.

Carver's career highlight took place in 1959 when he followed the Belleville McFarlands in their journey to the World Hockey Championships in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The name George Carver has always been associated with minor hockey in Ontario, especially in the Belleville area. In 1967, Carver's dedication to covering the minor hockey scene for The Intelligencer in Belleville earned him the honour of having an OMHA Championship trophy named after him. With his existing link to the OMHA and his reputation as a solid member of the media it is only fitting that the OMHA Media Award be named in his memory.
