10. If a player is injured or experiences an illness and leaves the game, he is NOT out when his turn at bat comes around. Coaches and umpires should be notified of injured or sick players. Injured or sick players who leave may not reenter the game.
11. If an injury or illness happens before the start of a game leaving a team without 9 players, the coaches can meet with the umpire before the start of the game to discuss how that missing player in the lineup will be handled throughout the game.

If the fielder does not have possession but is in the act of fielding the ball and contact is made, it is a no call unless the contact was intentional and malicious and is deemed so by the umpire. If it is determined by an umpire that the play is ruled intentional or malicious the player will be ruled out. The umpire will decide if any additional measures should be taken in regards to that player.
