

2024 New Mexico Boys & Girls Player Development Camp

The Land of Enchantment Amateur Hockey Association (LOEAHA) is excited to announce the 2024 New Mexico Player Development Camp (NMPDC) to be held March 24, 2024, at the McDermott Athletic Center in Rio Rancho, NM. The PDC is an opportunity for boys and girls with birth years 2007 - 2010 to participate in high-level drills, demonstrate hockey abilities, and compete for the state allocated roster spots to attend advanced District Player Development Camps (PDC). New this year will be a regional development camp for 2011 born girls. Selection does not require attending the NM State PDC, but 2011 girls are welcome to attend to become familiar with the PDC environment and process.

The camp will consist of skill-based, on-ice drills, a competitive scrimmage, and a seminar. Kelly Boyles, certified Nutrition Specialist, Personal Trainer and Health Coach will present Sports Nutrition for Youth Athletes, focusing on developing an individual fueling plan for peak performance. We hope to have a brief presentation during lunch on advancement opportunities in hockey including Juniors, College, and opportunities in Women's hockey.

Cost to participate in the NMPDC is $100.00. Registration includes lunch and a NM PDC jersey for camp attendees to keep. Sessions are as follows:

- Possible selection to gender- and birth-year-specific National USA Hockey Select Camps
