Strathcona Druids Rugby Club Women's Head Coach Position

Job Summary

The Strathcona Druids Rugby Club is located in Sherwood Park, Alberta. Currently the club has 2 senior men's teams, one senior women's team, and a thriving mini/youth rugby program. In the role of Women's Head Coach, this candidate will oversee all operations of the senior women's rugby program including at least twice weekly training sessions and weekly games. The Alberta Rugby union competition generally runs from May to August.

Responsibilities

The Head Coach will be responsible for creating a successful team environment for the women's team. Specific duties the candidate will need to oversee:

- Promoting and evaluating the skill, talent and fitness of all Druids Women's players
- Preparing weekly trainings and making team selections for game days
- Recruitment; including coordinating and communicating with local high school coaches
- Management of essential team equipment; jerseys, balls, etc.
- Coordinating with Men's Head Coach and Mini/Youth Head Coaches to promote a cohesive club community
- Management of Women's coaching team; including meetings and effective communication using TEAM SNAP as a communication tool

Supervision Received

This position will report directly to the Strathcona Druids Rugby Club Executive Board and or the VP of Rugby.

Qualifications

Previous rugby coaching experience is required, minimum of 5 years. The candidate must have Level 2 NCCP qualifications as this is new this year and has been recommended by Rugby Alberta. If the successful candidate doesn't possess this level of certifications, they must enroll in the upcoming courses that will be available from Rugby Alberta. Applicants must be able to legally work in Canada. The Head coach's position has an honorarium that is based on experience and years of coaching.

How to Apply

Interested candidates should email a current coaching CV to ken.trumper@outlook.com . More details regarding the position can be provided upon application to the position.
