

Covered activities

For policies covering school time activities, with the closing of schools and the need for students to continue their studies at home, we agree to extend the school time coverage under QBE's student accident policies. This will cover students while they are completing their schoolwork at home during normal school hours, in accordance with their school district's instructions until such time that schools reopen, and in-classroom instruction resumes.

For policies covering sports activities, in conjunction with the closure of school and college campuses and the need for student athletes to remain fit and ready to resume sports for the next semester, QBE agrees to provide coverage for accidents that result from training, conditioning and related fitness activities in accordance with coaching directives, while student-athletes are off campus and in compliance with local mandates to "stay at home" during the policy period. Regarding the suspension of K-12 sports, QBE agrees to provide coverage for accidents that result from training, conditioning and related fitness activities in accordance with coaching directives, while student-athletes are home in compliance with local mandates until schools reopen and sports resume, or until the school year ends
