Simley Now Has 401 State Entrants

Simley wrestler Charli Raymond celebrates after defeating Fridley wrestler Olivia Sackor during the girls wrestling state tournament in 2023. Raymond won state titles in 2022, 2023 and 2024 and is positioned to win six state championships, something only one Minnesota wrestler has accomplished. (Alex Kormann/The Minnesota Star Tribune)

“Five little girls came up to me and told me good job and asked for my autograph,” Graber said. “Their parents said they’d been following me all season. That was big. It wasn’t just because of something that happened at the meet.”

While Bragg is committed to wrestling against boys for the remainder of the season and Raymond has carried the torch for the girls individual tournament, Graber finds herself straddling the line. She’s wrestled against boys for most of the season but also competed against girls in an early-season tournament at which she routed the competition.

She’s unsure which section tournament she’ll compete in this year.

“I think that’s a little bit of a gray area for her right now,” said her coach, Jules Doliscar. “But what I do know is that she’s in the [wrestling] room every day, putting in the work.”

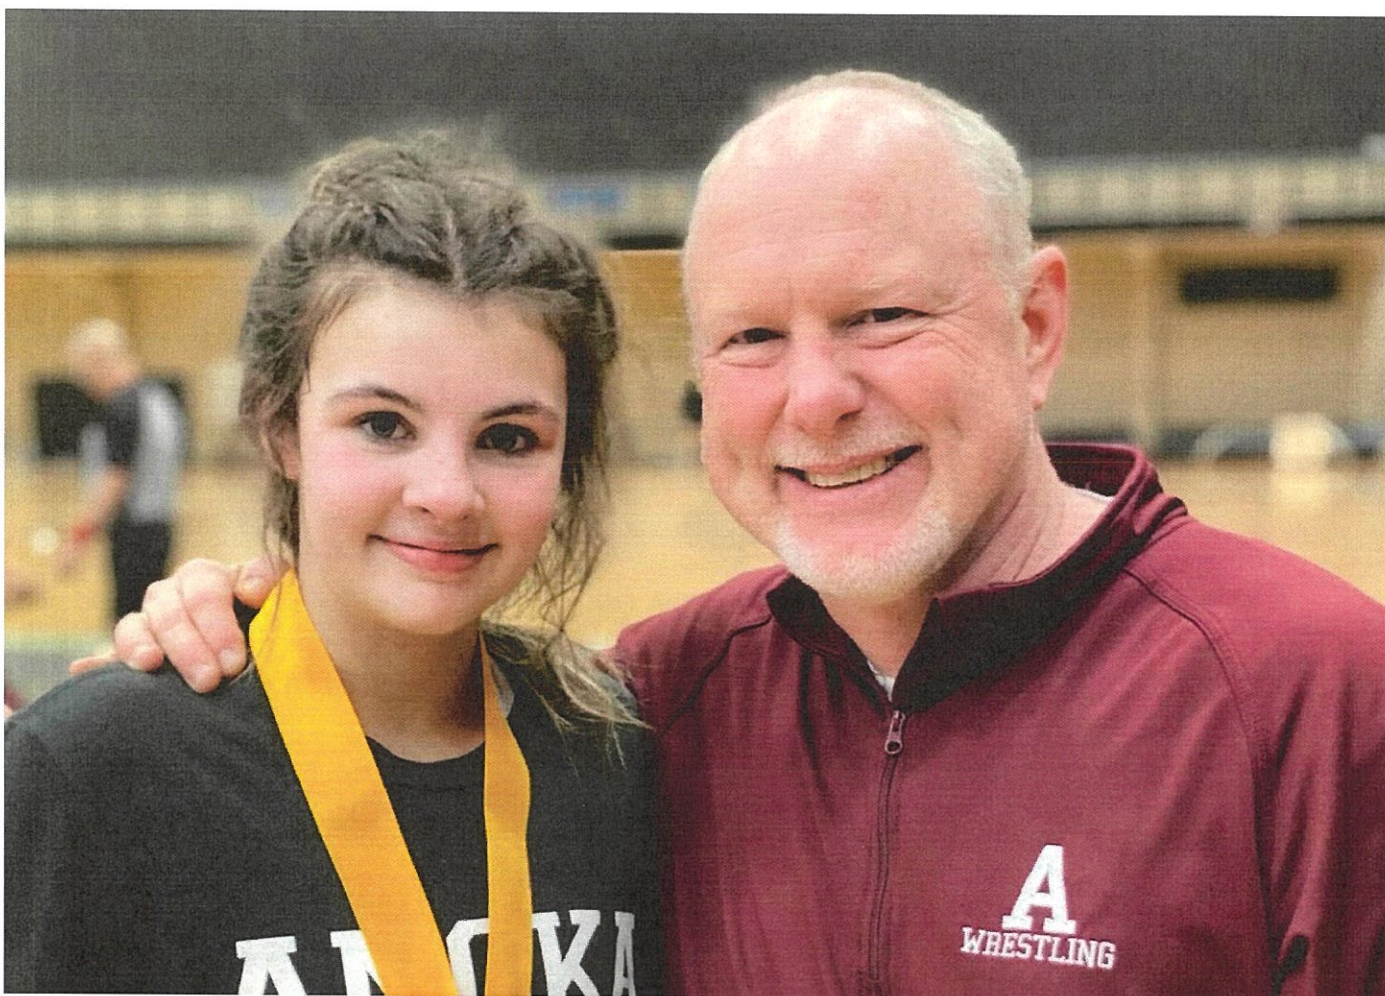

Proving it can be done

Bragg and her parents searched for a beacon in Minnesota’s new world of girls wrestling. What they learned is girls who wanted to excel had to go outside the state. In sixth grade, she wrestled for a team in Michigan, an offseason connection she maintains to this day.

“I would have expected Minnesota girls to have better leadership,” said Bragg, who suggested past leadership was fractured and self-serving, with little interest in building the sport.

For Raymond, there was a blueprint to follow. Her older brothers, Cash and Skyler, are accomplished wrestlers. Cash, her role model, wrestles for Augustana University in Sioux Falls.

“I’m pretty proud of him,” Raymond said.

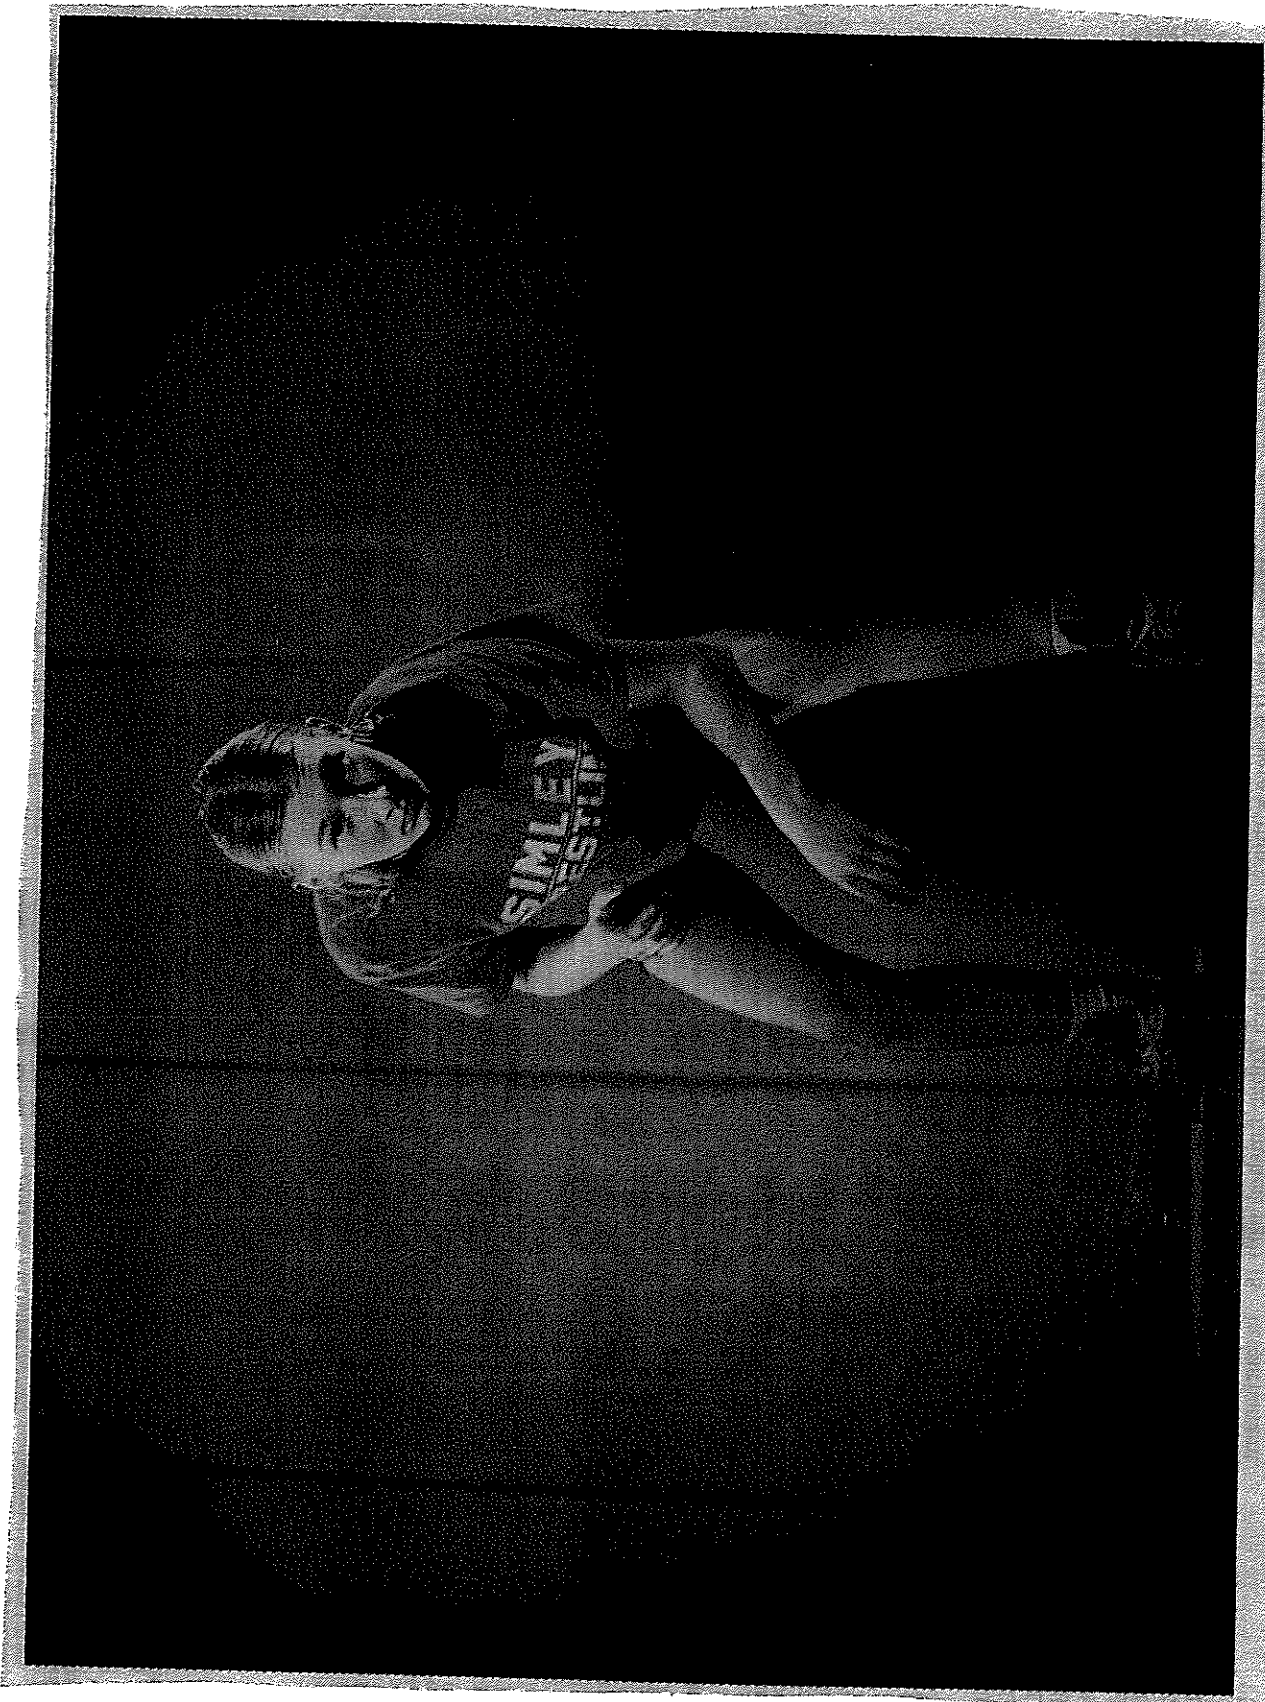

Anoka wrestler Gigi Bragg with coach Todd Springer.

Raymond owns three girls individual titles and could become the second wrestler in state history to win six individual state championships. Apple Valley’s Mark Hall won six between 2011 and 2016.

For now, Raymond is focused on training.

“There are more really good girls wrestling now, so I know I have to work even harder just to stay at the top of the podium,” Raymond said.

Simley sophomore wrestler Charli Raymond already has four state titles, and she has the work ethic and focus to shoot for becoming only the second Minnesota wrestler to win six.

Hard work earns four state titles

GIRLS WRESTLING CHARLI RAYMOND, SIMLEY

By JIM PAULSEN
The Minnesota Star Tribune

A question floated around the dinner table at the Raymond household in Randolph, Minn., recently.

From which parent do sisters Charli and Carter get their athletic talents?

Charli, a sophomore, is a four-time girls wrestling state champion at Simley with a chance to become only the second wrestler in Minnesota high school sports history to win six state wrestling titles. She's also the recipient of the 2025 Star Tribune All-Minnesota Girls Wrestler of the Year award.

Carter, a senior at Randolph, is a Ms. Softball candidate, the reigning Star Tribune Metro Softball Player of the Year and Gatorade Player of the Year. She's committed to the Gophers.

"We were joking around about it," Charli said. "We finally said we got it from our mom."

Father Josh is a wrestling gadfly. Among the many hats he wears is that of a popular wrestling podcaster. Mother Joline is a successful accounting supervisor.

There are two Raymond sons: Skyler, a former standout baseball player, and Cash, who wrestles at Augustana in South Dakota.

It's an active family, to be sure. To Charli, her background is the foundation for the success she's experienced on the wrestling mat.

"I try to do everything I can to take care of myself, like my nutrition, getting enough sleep, lifting weights," she said. "Hard work. You have to put in the work."

Charli was fast-tracked into a wrestling life as a toddler. She has been training at the renowned Pinnacle Wrestling School in Roseville "since I was 3 or 4 years old," she said.

She has wrestled at Simley, which is little more than a half-hour drive from her Randolph home, since seventh grade, following the path of older brother Cash.

Success has been a constant companion for Charli since the sanctioning of girls wrestling in Minnesota four years ago. After a third consecutive undefeated girls season (37-0), she won the 124-pound title with a 7-0 victory over Elise Westerman of Eagan.

It was her 98th high school victory. "When I found out I was at 98 and so close to 100, I was like, 'Oh my ...,'" she lamented. More significantly, the victory kept Raymond on pace to be mentioned among the greatest wrestlers in state history. Only celebrated Apple Valley star Mark Hall has won six titles.

If she continues to improve, getting to six titles seems like a bet that gets safer each year.

"I've really improved, my top game. And I've learned to become more heavy-handed,"

she said. "I used to be too nice."

The possibility of reaching that milestone is still two years away. Raymond knows there is still plenty of work ahead if she hopes to soar that high, but she admits she thinks about it on occasion.

"I've had a lot of cool opportunities because of wrestling," said Charli, who starts every day at 5:45 a.m. and gets to Simley early to lift weights. "Sometimes I'll try to envision it, winning six. But it doesn't come naturally. I've put in the work, day in and day out. And there's still a lot of work to do."
