

DOMINIC GATTI

Dominic was a minor league player for the Texas Rangers, and a three-time All-American player at Adelphi University. In his senior year of college, he led the nation in batting average (.500), and was named the Most Valuable Player in the country. Since then, Dom and his staff have been training and encouraging baseball players of all ages and levels. In 1998, Dominic was inducted into the Adelphi Athletic Hall of Fame—the youngest in the school’s history. Dom has been successfully running camps for 20 years.

Dom and his staff can be found year-round instructing clinics, private lessons, and team practices at Cove Sports Academy in Glen Cove. Contact Coach Gatti for details.
