Katie Anderson

Players currently in PLSHA: Boy Mite

Describe past experience within the Prior Lake Savage Hockey Association: I've been actively involved with the Prior Lake Savage Hockey Association both at the team and committee level. I currently serve on the sponsorship committee, supporting efforts that help bring in partners and strengthen the overall experience for players and families. In a prior season, I co-managed a Rookie Mite team, helping with team logistics, communication, and activity coordination. It gave me a great perspective on what families and players need for the season to run smoothly. Through both roles, I've gained a real appreciation for the work that goes into the association and enjoy being part of a community that supports youth hockey in such a meaningful way.

Describe other areas of community involvement/relevant experience: In addition to my involvement with the hockey association, I stay active in the community by supporting my kids' activities and stepping in where help is needed—whether that's volunteering, organizing, or helping things run smoothly behind the scenes. I tend to naturally take on roles that bring a bit more structure and coordination, especially when it helps make things easier for others or improves the overall experience. I value being part of a community where people show up for each other, and I try to contribute in a way that's reliable, collaborative, and supportive.

What specific skills/talents would you bring to the Board: I bring a strong combination of organization, follow-through, and sound decision-making. In my work, I lead complex programs and manage multi-million-dollar budgets, which requires balancing priorities, staying disciplined in execution, and keeping multiple stakeholders aligned. I'm able to bring people together, work through different viewpoints, and keep things moving in a productive direction. I pay attention to details, stay focused on what matters most, and keep things on track without overcomplicating them. I would bring a steady, collaborative approach, a high level of accountability, and a genuine commitment to supporting the association and the families it serves.

Other information you'd like members to consider in reviewing your application: I take commitments seriously and would approach a board role with the time, preparation, and follow-through it deserves. I value being part of a team, listening to different perspectives, and working toward decisions that are fair and in the best interest of the broader association. As a newer hockey parent, I also bring a fresh perspective while being genuinely invested in the long-term success of the program. I care about the experience we're creating for players and families, and would contribute in a way that is steady, thoughtful, and supportive of both the board and the community.

Eric Randt

Players currently in PLSHA: Squirt

Describe past experience within the Prior Lake Savage Hockey Association: While my direct, formal experience within Prior Lake Hockey is relatively limited, I have had the opportunity to serve as Treasurer for my son's Squirt B1 team. In that role, I supported the financial organization of the team, ensuring transparency, accountability, and a smooth experience for families throughout the season. More broadly, hockey is truly a family commitment in our household. My wife has been deeply involved as a team manager for each of our sons' teams and has also contributed her time on the Jamboree Board. Together, we've approached our involvement not as individual roles, but as a shared family effort to support the players, coaches, and the broader Prior Lake hockey community. Through these experiences, I've gained a strong appreciation for the time, coordination, and dedication required to make youth hockey successful. While my direct experience may be modest, my commitment to the organization, willingness to contribute, and perspective as an engaged hockey parent position me to add value and continue learning in service of the program.

Describe other areas of community involvement/relevant experience: My volunteer experience in youth athletics has primarily been centered around baseball and football, where I've had the opportunity to serve in a variety of leadership and coaching roles. Most notably, I spent four years as the Director of In-House Baseball, where I was responsible for overseeing program structure, supporting coaches, and ensuring a positive and organized experience for players and families. In addition, I have served as a travel baseball board member and have coached at multiple levels in both travel baseball and youth football. These roles have provided me with a well-rounded perspective on youth sports—ranging from program development and operations to coaching, communication, and parent engagement. They've also reinforced the importance of building strong cultures, supporting volunteers, and keeping the focus on player development and experience. From a personal athletic background, I was fortunate to play Division I baseball and competed in football at the high school level. Those experiences shaped my appreciation for team dynamics, accountability, and the long-term impact that strong programs and leadership can have on young athletes. While the majority of my direct experience has been outside of hockey, the sport has quickly become the biggest passion for our family. Through our involvement in Prior Lake Hockey, we've developed a deep appreciation for the community, the commitment required, and the role the organization plays in shaping both players and families. I'm excited about the opportunity to bring my broader youth sports experience, leadership perspective, and passion for hockey to contribute in a meaningful way.

What specific skills/talents would you bring to the Board: bring a leadership style grounded in accountability, organization, and structure. Throughout my professional and volunteer experience, I've consistently focused on building clear frameworks that allow teams and programs to operate efficiently while keeping people aligned and engaged. One of my core strengths is the ability to bring structure to complex environments—whether that's organizing programs, supporting coaches, or helping teams operate with clarity and consistency. I believe strong structure creates confidence, and confidence allows both players and volunteers to perform at their best. I also bring a steady, decisive leadership presence. I'm comfortable making informed decisions, communicating them clearly, and following through. At the same time, I value collaboration and input, ensuring that decisions reflect the needs of the broader organization. Equally important is my commitment to accountability and follow-through. I take ownership of outcomes, hold myself to the highest standard.

Other information you'd like members to consider in reviewing your application: I have built multiple businesses and corporate structures grounded in successful teams and strong relationships.

I believe the association has a strong foundation, and also a real opportunity to evolve in how we operate, communicate, and plan for the future. If re-elected, I will continue to advocate for a more transparent, strategically focused, and well-structured board—one that supports our volunteers, engages our membership, and ensures we are positioned for long-term success. I would be honored to continue serving and respectfully ask for your consideration and support.
