Welcome!

From the Christ Prep Patriot Football Team.

We are so glad to have you join us for today's game.

The Christ Prep Football program is a very unique organization and team. Our mission is to use football to help build godly men for the next generation who seek God and His Kingdom. Our alumni are husbands, fathers, ministers, businessmen, tradesmen, and military men. Please take a moment to read about some of these men in the following pages of this program.

Christ Prep Football offers competitive 11-man football to students from Christ Prep Academy and Homeschool students in the Kansas City metro area. We are an affiliate member of KSHAA (Kansas High School Activities Association) and we are approved to play public & private schools in Kansas and Missouri.

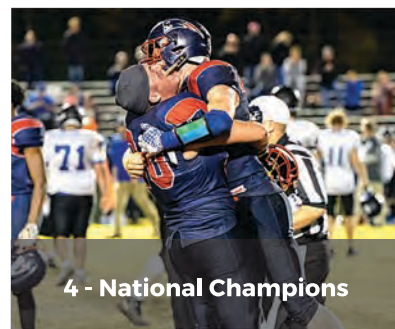

If you arrive early enough, you will hear us before each game doing our team pre-game pledge. This Patriot pledge sums up what we are about as a team:

Heavenly Father,

We bring our team before you in this football endeavor. Our desire is to play for You and honor You. We pledge that, come what may, we resolve to bring our best effort on every play and leave the results to you. We also pledge that we do not play for ourselves, but for these brothers standing next to us. Take our labor multiply it, unite us, make us strong and give us victory!

On behalf of our coaching staff & players I would like to thank you for coming today.

Welcome To Patriot Football!

The Mission of Christ Preparatory Academy is to partner with parents and the church to prepare college ready witnesses for Christ who know, love and compassionately speak the truth! From the founding of the school, Christ Prep has seen the provision of athletic opportunities for believing families as central to this mission.

The synergy of parent and coach is a very powerful thing. It is quickly apparent how profoundly important the arena of football is to these young men. It is also quickly evident how deeply this program impacts the spiritual nature of all involved. Christ Prep deeply appreciates the efforts of our remarkable coaches, willing parents and loving faculty in this ministry.

Somewhere along the way, we also realized the significant role that our athletes play as ambassadors for Christ Prep.

Whether that team member attends classes at the school, at home, or at one of our partner schools, the uniform identifies them as a Christ Preparatory Academy Patriot – one who joins a long list of others who have worn the red, white and blue. These young men have already left a tremendous mark on their spheres of influence in neighborhoods, business, church and family.

Christ Prep is proud to be associated with Coach Tom Hurley and his staff. The incredible investment that these men – and others before them – have made in the lives of those who play on their teams has been astounding, and we join parents and fans in the expression of our thanks to them all.

So, welcome! We're glad you're here. We hope you enjoy a great game today. May God richly bless you and your family. Go, Patriots!

Lenexa Homeschool Football Team Wins National Title

41 Action News Staff | Nov 25, 2019

For the second year in a row, Christ Prep Academy, of Lenexa, Kansas, has won the National Homeschool Football Association Championship. Going in to this year's tournament with a No. 1 ranking last Thursday night, Christ Prep (CPA) beat No. 4 Georgia Force 25-3, earning their slot in the championship game on Saturday night. In Saturday's last game of the 16-game tournament, CPA fought a tough battle down to the closing 2 minutes against a hard-hitting NOAH squad from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Final score was 21-13 in favor of the reigning champs.

The CPA Patriots have now posted a 22-3 record over the past two years and are 5-1 in their last 6 tournament games. CPA entered this year's tournament averaging 41ppg offensively against 6ppg defensively, with 7 shutouts. Even though per game averages dipped a little from their two championship round games (38ppg offensively-6ppg defensively), their defensive strength proved to be the team signature as they hung tough and made plays that mattered the most when needed. As proven on the field, time and time again, this defensive unit would bend but not break.

The two teams scrapped back and forth all night, moving the ball up and down the field using an exciting array of plays including, a blocked punt, interceptions, multiple wildcats, hook-and-ladder and swinging gate formations.

The game turned when NOAH had just stopped CPA on a 4th and 15 at midfield in a three-and out series.

CPA's Nick Classen kicked the punt down inside the 20, but it rolled into the end zone before his teammates could down the ball. NOAH took over at their own 20-yard line, and with 2:45 left on the clock had plenty of time to tie the game. QB Mikey Barnett put the Patriot players and fans on edge by threading the CPA secondary with his passes. He moved NOAH up to midfield with successive pass completions. On their own 47, the Patriot defense broke up a first down pass. Barnett then completed his next throw, but the Patriot defense refused to give up any yards. NOAH then went to their bread-and-butter delivery man, Christian Sabatini, who had been giving Patriot defenders fits all night long. Patriots CB Noah Blair stepped into the breach, as he so often does, sniffing out the play and intercepting the ball at the 1:31 mark – effectively ending NOAH's chances to tie the game.

There were many Patriot players who stood out in this game. Junior DE Paul Lindstrom came up with a key punt blocked at the NOAH 15-yard line, which led to a quick Patriot score – and the difference in this game. Junior TE Ben Einess ran the wildcat well, frustrating NOAH defenders and scoring 2 touchdowns. Senior QB/CB Noah Blair was once again named tournament MVP for his impact on the games and leadership on both sides of the ball.

Christ Prep is now the only team in the history of this national tournament to win back-to-back championships, and Noah Blair is the only player in history, to win back-to-back MVP awards.

Christ Prep football began in 2003 when Dick Burton, a homeschool Dad, desired to see character taught and modeled to his own sons and saw football as a tool that could be used to do just that. 15+ years later, and through the succeeding 3 head coaches after Coach Burton (Dave Wallace, Jim Cook & Tom Hurley), the same passion and desire is at the heart of this program and runs through the entire coaching staff, administrative staff & numerous volunteers who devote countless hours to making this program available to young men throughout the Kansas City metro area

Over the years Christ Prep Football has had much success. With winning seasons in 12 of 16 years, a record of 21-3 in the past two years, and over 30 alumni who have gone on to play at the collegiate level, our program is judged by the young men who have come through it, still following Christ, are faithful husbands & fathers, involved in and supporting their local church, providing for their families and benefiting society.

CPA first entered the NHFA National Tournament in 2012 and have been back every year since. Fighting their way into the championship bracket in 2014, 2017, 2018 & 2019, they finished 2nd in 2014, 3rd in 2017, 1st in 2018 and 1st in the 2019 event.

The only loss suffered by Christ Prep in 2019 was to an Olpe, KS team that finished the year 10-1, losing in their state playoffs to Centralia, Kan.

A Football Journey

In 2003 Dick Burton, a homeschool father of 8 sons, missed coaching and decided to return to start up the football program for this new University Model School called Christ Prep. His first calls were to his assistant coaches, Jay Geeding, Mark Geeding, and Jim Cook. Soon after, most of his former players (mostly homeschoolers) joined and won the National Association of Christian Athletics (NACA) Div I 8-man football tournament. A fantastic start for a program in its inaugural season.

Over the next seven seasons years Burton's Patriots continued to overwhelm the competition. The team grew and at the start of the 2006 season Burton briefly turned over the reins to Defensive Coordinator Jim Sanders and moved the team up to 11-man football.

Burton then returned mid-season and finished one of the best seasons in school history with a record of 9-5 and runner-up in the NAFA Tournament. The highlight of the season came with a hard fought victory over an undefeated Hogan Prep team on Oct. 7th. Burton retired after the 2009 season with a winning percentage of 60% and record of 50-33.

During those early years the team practiced at Mid-American Nazarene University and played games in southern Olathe but when Dave Wallace took over as head coach he moved the team to Red Bridge Baptist Church in Grandview, MO. During Wallace's tenure a rivalry with Lighthouse Christian Chargers, the homeschool team in Springfield, MO, was birthed. CPA won three of the first four meetings including a dominating performance in 2010 by Darren Wallace, Jared Nield and a 4 TD receiving day by Jack Layman to win 41-20. Then in 2011 Lighthouse went on a three game win streak to take a 4-3 advantage.

Wallace retired after two seasons and Jim Cook took over a program that had dwindled to 16 players. Cook began to make structural changes including improving the practice field at Red Bridge, starting up the Redzone Camp, lots of recruiting for both Junior High and High School. He and booster club president, Greg Finley, made the decision to participate in the National Homeschool Football tournament in Panama City, FL. The first trip in 2012, was a huge success from the perspective of coaches, players and families. CPA finished 6th out of 8 teams, but hungry for more.

In 2013, the team made it to the top bracket in Florida and finished 3rd. They set the stage for an amazing 2014 season for both Junior High and High School. The JH Patriots, coached by Tom Hurley, finished the season 8-1-1 redeeming their only defeat to St. Mary's by winning the rematch and a fought to a 6-6 tie versus Lighthouse.

The varsity team dominated their regular season schedule including an impressive win over rival Lighthouse by a score of 30-14 but finished runner-up in Panama City to those same Chargers by score of 21-7. That team closed the season as the highest ranked homeschool team in the country.

In 2016 Josh Burton, Dick Burton's son, assumed command of the junior high program which enabled Coach Hurley to move up to high school. Hurley immediately focused on equipment upgrades and replacing the helmets so that today our players have state of the art protection.

The team continues to focus on building Christian character as well as public speaking skills. Christ Prep embraces the symbiotic relationship between CPA's KSHAA status and academic students along with homeschoolers who participate in athletics in general, but particularly football.

Meet the Seniors

Joshua Dereskiewicz #7

QB / H: 5' 11" / W: 165 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 7

PLAYING SPORTS:

Played football since I was 5 years old. I also played baseball and basketball.

MEMORIES:

Team bonding at Camp Shiloh every year.

FAMILY:

Have a 7-year-old brother who can't wait to play football. Live in Harrisonville, MO. Have had a lot of family bonding time in the car driving to practices and games over the years.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Strive to get better personally every day. Encourage teammates, lift them up always! No matter how long it takes, if you work hard enough, you can accomplish your goals.

ABOUT MYSELF

Interested in going into the medical field, maybe as a physical therapist or in sports therapy.

Jesse Traw #7

FB, LB / H: 5' 6" / W: 218 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 7

PLAYING SPORTS:

Wrestled since I was 7 years old. Home schoolers couldn't complete in the public-school matches, so I went to football. Wrestling helped me develop my football skills.

MEMORIES:

Friendships made while at CPA.

FAMILY:

Have five siblings, three boys and two girls. I'm the oldest of the boys. My older sister is in Lebanon, working as a missionary in Beirut on human trafficking. My other sister is a nurse.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Live your life in the present, learn from the past but don't dwell on it. Learn from others.

ABOUT MYSELF:

Probably won't attend college out of high school. Will join the Army in January of next year.

Ethan Tucker #79

OL, DL / H: 6' 0" / W: 275 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 5

PLAYING SPORTS:

Played organized football on competitive teams before CPA. Played football for 13 years.

MEMORIES:

Winning the 2019 National Championship and contributing as a starter.

FAMILY:

Two older brothers and two younger sisters. Oldest brother has two children and is lead pastor at the Abundant Life Church, Independence, MO. My other brother is a Detention Officer with the Blue Springs Police Department.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Train in the off-season, and you will see your biggest impact on the regular season.

ABOUT MYSELF:

I've become a leader on the line. I've grown a lot closer to God. Learned how to become a team player and I put others before my own needs now.

Meet the Seniors

Caden Shiner #61

C, DT / H: 5' 11" / W: 245 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 3

PLAYING SPORTS:

Played one year in Junior High. Stopped playing football because of a concussion but eventually returned. Played in the 2019 National Championship Game and had fun winning the championship.

TEAM MEMORIES:

Camp Shiloh, midnight hitting drills, team talk around the campfire.

FAMILY:

Has an older sister who is at Colorado Christian as a Business Major. Older brother played at CPA for two years and is now at Johnson County Community College studying for an Associates Degree in horticulture.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Give it all you've got. Take advantage of your time here, because you'll miss it when you're gone.

ABOUT MYSELF:

I learned to push myself beyond my limits. I have a lot of respect for the coaches as they volunteer their time and don't get paid.

Jalen Rowland #38

RB, CB / H: 5' 10" / W: 155 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 2

PLAYING SPORTS:

Started playing at eight years old, but got interrupted, then resumed playing here at CPA last year.

TEAM MEMORIES:

Bonding with my teammates and traveling out of state for games. Traveling to Panama City, FL for the National Championship Game

FAMILY:

Family has blessed me and helped with school work, also in picking up football gear. Has a brother at Lincoln College. Sister plays basketball with an Under Armour AA team.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Keep working at your craft. Try to become your best self. Don't give up when times get tough.

ABOUT MYSELF:

I'm a good leader and a good friend, competitive, and I like motivating others to be better. I'm an encourager, and trying to be a better follower of Christ.

Jonathan Layman #18

WR, DE / H: 6' 3" / W: 191 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 6

PLAYING SPORTS:

Started at OLB as a freshman, then switched to WR during my sophomore year.

TEAM MEMORIES:

Last year in Panama City, after the National Championship Game, I took a hot shower instead of getting into an ice bath. Coach Hurley found out, came and put me in the ice bath so I wouldn't get any cramps.

FAMILY:

Has 8 siblings, 4 brothers and 4 sisters. Brother Jack played for Mid-America Nazarene University on a scholarship, but switched to Liberty University where he graduated.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Never give up. Keep your dreams in focus and work hard.

ABOUT MYSELF:

I struggled through the work ethic when I was younger but I'm stronger and much better now. Learned to be on time.

Meet the Seniors

Micah Krause #43

RB, CB / H: 5' 7" / W: 161 LBS

YEARS PLAYING AT CPA: 6

PLAYING SPORTS:

Called 'DASH' in 7th grade, because I was fast.

TEAM MEMORIES:

Playing in the 2018 championship game, as a sophomore. Played in the semifinal game against Tomball where I caught a pass for the game winning touchdown!

FAMILY:

Big family, strong faith in Christ. Have 2 older siblings. One attends K-State and the other has been on mission trips to Nigeria, Mexico, Nicaragua and Germany.

WORDS OF WISDOM:

Leadership is about relationships, building up, encouraging teammates to gain respect by example.

ABOUT MYSELF:

I learned that I can push myself beyond my limits. I have a lot of respect for the coaches. They volunteer their time and don't get paid. They really care for the players.

Tom Hurley

Head Coach

Tom Hurley believes that many sports are great for teaching character, but football is unique. "The physical and mental adversity that a player faces in football provide unique teaching opportunities for what these young men will face later in life," Hurley said. "The required daily Bible reading is also unique to our program. Our hope is that it becomes a habit not only during the football season but that it carries over for the rest of their lives."

Hurley started playing football in the ninth grade, and by the end of high school, he claimed an impressive list of accomplishments, including: State of Colorado Class A 8-Man, First Team All-State Offensive Guard, and First Team All-State Defensive End. He was the only player in his school's history to be All-State on both offense and defense. He credits his high school coach, Larid Crump, for any success he had as a player and more importantly, who he is as a man today.

Hurley became a coach when his oldest son started playing football. At that time, the family was living in Oklahoma City. He coached his son's junior high homeschool team for three years and the varsity team for one year.

In 2011, the family moved to Kansas City for his work, and he began to search for a football team for his son. "I Googled 'Homeschool Football Kansas City' and found a couple of options," Hurley said. "Through reading the Christ Prep website I knew this was the one." Hurley took over as head coach for the junior high in 2012 after serving in the equipment trailer for one season, and he is entering his fourth year as head coach for varsity.

Hurley and his wife of 30 years, Heidi, have nine children ranging in age from 10 to 28 and now one grandson. He is certain that Heidi has a direct impact on the Christ Prep program.

"My ability to coach is directly tied to her loving support of me and this ministry to these young men," Hurley said. "Her willingness to do everything at home when I am not there is what makes it possible for me to coach; this includes caring for my Mom who lives with us and has MS."

As a coach, he is most proud of the players and coaches that have helped the program to reach the pinnacle of the homeschool football world by winning back-to-back NHFA & NHFCS national championship in 2018 and 2019. "This was years in the making and many players and coaches helped to build the program the right way which enabled us to achieve this milestone" Hurley said. His overarching goal has always been to be the best homeschool football program in the country - both from a spiritual standpoint and in terms of football play."

"I believe God wants us to do everything with excellence for His Glory!"

Tim Hammack

Offensive Coordinator

Entering his 11th year as football coach with Christ Prep, Tim Hammack thrives seeing the boys grow into more mature young men through playing the game together. He especially enjoys doing so among the company of like-minded coaches whose first priority is to please God.

Hammack came to the Christ Prep program in 2004 when his daughter ran track. She was also a football cheerleader. He coached sprinters in the track program and came back in 2008 to coach football.

He believes faith is especially critical in building the character traits he and the other Christ Prep coaches desire to see in their players. "When players leave our program, I want them to have experienced God and to take with them their own personal faith and love for God that will carry them through their adult life," Hammack said.

As a young man, Hammack pursued sports with gusto. He's been throwing a ball of some sort for as long as he can remember. Hammack started playing team baseball (no T ball back then) at the age of five. In Junior High, he started playing organized football and basketball.

In high school, he was a four-sport athlete: football, basketball, baseball, and track. But it's been no contest for his favorite sport. Since he started playing it, football has always been his favorite.

Hammack and his wife, Stephanie, have three adult daughters. In addition to raising their daughters together, Tim and Stephanie have led church youth groups and young adult groups in the past.

Maintaining a healthy balance between football and the other responsibilities is a challenge.

Hammack acknowledges that during the four months of the season, hours can be scarce, and he owes a lot to the support, encouragement, and grace of Stephanie.

"Faith is the foundation that everything is built upon," Hammack said. "Apart from faith I probably wouldn't be coaching. My desire is that my faith would be an example for our players."

"When players leave our program, I want them to have experienced God and to take with them their own personal faith and love for God that will carry them through their adult life."

Jay Geeding

Defensive Coordinator

Motivated by his desire to mold young men into godly character, Jay Geeding has been coaching Christ Prep football since the program's inception. His commitment as a coach is evident in the way he interacts with the players. "It's all about the kids," Geeding said. "There's no other reason why I do it."

Geeding is one of the founding coaches of this organization. According to Geeding, one of the players he'd previously coached at Shawnee Mission North became homeschooled and joined Coach Dick Burton's team the first year of the Christ Prep football program. Geeding's former player started right away at middle linebacker, and Burton was impressed with the player's skills.

When Burton inquired about the player's previous coach, he found Geeding and asked if he would help build the Christ Prep football program. After meeting some of the players, Geeding agreed to join the program.

He was especially drawn to the character and attitudes of the boys who came out to play. "The kids we get are good kids," Geeding said. "Molding and shaping them into men is what we do."

When the Christ Prep football program began in 1999, it was operating out of Olathe Christian School. In 2003, it became Christ Prep. Geeding was the Offensive Coordinator from 1999-2011, and he has been Defensive Coordinator since.

He genuinely cares about his players and he cares about their developing faith. He especially wants to provide an example for them as a man of faith and to, "Use the sport as a tool to teach God's word."

Geeding started playing football in the second grade. Growing up, he played every sport that was available to him: football, baseball, basketball, cross country. His history of leadership has been mostly sports-related: He's coached baseball, basketball, and obviously, football.

His dedication to the young men of the Christ Prep program can be summed up in his stated desire, "To build godly character in men."

"The kids we get are good kids." Molding and shaping them into men is what we do."

Chris Jones

Special Teams & Offensive Line Coach

Chris Jones aspires to use football to teach young men to be disciplined, selfless, passionate, and God-fearing men. This passion for being part of a mentoring relationship is at the heart of Jones' coaching philosophy.

Beyond imparting his leadership and athletic experience to the players, Jones is encouraged by the growth he's experienced, personally, in his faith while coaching for the Christ Prep program. Jones said the daily bible reading and fellowship that are part of the program have helped strengthen his relationship with God.

He's inspired by one particular idea from the gospels where Jesus mentions that to enter the Kingdom of Heaven we must become like children. "It is our duty as evangelists of Christianity to help teach these boys and pour love into them," Jones said.

Jones has played sports his whole life, including basketball, soccer, baseball, and softball. Although he didn't start playing football until the eighth grade, Jones ended up playing for the Christ Prep football team for three years. He also played basketball (on Christ Prep's first team), wrestled for two years, and played baseball for two years.

As he enters his 10th year as a coach for Christ Prep, Jones and his wife of seven years, welcomed their first son 2 years ago. While he admits that it's difficult to balance work, family, and football, Jones perseveres. "All in all, it goes back to what I learned during my time at Christ Prep," Jones said. "Discipline, dedication, and sacrifice." And he credits his wife for the sacrifices she makes during football season, "It's because of her that I'm able to do this a lot of the time."

When he played for Christ Prep, Jones said he was deeply impacted by the care and example set for him by the coaches. "They were so influential in my life I knew I wanted to give back to the program," Jones said. "If I can give these kids 10% of what the coaches gave me, it'll be worth something."

Mike Bigg

Assistant Coach & Team Administrator

As a coach, "I want the boys to see that they are so much greater than they even know, because of what God has put into them," he said. When in the process of looking for a football team for their son, the Bigg's came across the Christ Prep Football program.

The truly Christ centered focus and heart of the team was the primary draw. He had previously been an assistant football coach for three years with CCJAA, a Belton rec league. When they arrived at Christ Prep, he wanted to do anything he could to help, and as today, there was plenty of need.

In his first year of service in the equipment trailer, Bigg applied himself to bringing a higher level of organization to the program and tending to the various needs of the players. The following year he was invited to help coach the Junior High team, which he did for two years.

He's coached Varsity for the last three years, runs the equipment and administrative side of the program, keeps the boys patched up, helps drive to away games, manages and designs the game program, and so much more.

While the needs that God has placed in front of him might not be the most glorious, Bigg approaches his role with humility. "I help these sweaty boys stretch, wrap & tape them, and I help with their injuries," Bigg said. "I've learned that my dreams may not be the same as God's plans, so I pray for the grace to do the jobs that He has for me; to serve where He needs me."

Bigg cites his wife, Kimberly, as both his inspiration and his support. "She is the hardest working person I have ever met. Kimberly and I are the kind of people that can't just drop off our kids and not be involved," Bigg said. "I needed Kimberly's help with football."

"She's a huge part of the equipment trailer being the way people see it right now," Bigg said.

If you have been here more than 5 years, you know the gigantic leaps made for the program. Using the gifts that God has given him, Bigg does everything he can to lift up the team as a whole. With this spirit, he encourages and allows the other coaches to pour their hearts into the young men on the team as well.

"I've learned that my dreams may not be the same as God's plans, so I pray for the grace to do the jobs that He has for me; to serve where He needs me."

Yoshi Sato

Assistant Coach - Defense

2018 is Yoshi Sato's first year as a coach for Christ Prep, and he brings decades of experience as an athlete, coach, and leader to our football program. He has coached basketball, flag football, baseball, and full contact 8-man football. He was the Offensive Line and Defensive Line skills coach for the KC East Lions Junior High and High School football teams from 2009 through 2015.

When his son expressed interest in playing 11-man football in 2017, he found the Christ Prep program. His approach to coaching flows naturally from his interest in teaching others. "Our life on earth is short and difficult," Sato said. "So, I want to help others learn about life now and eternal life through fellowship." He's encouraged by the openness of the young hearts and minds of our players.

Sato has loved sports all his life. Growing up in Japan, he played baseball, Kendo (Japanese Fencing) and track.

In the States, he played high school baseball and track, and went onto play football for Northwestern College in Orange City Iowa.

Because of his speed, Sato started as a receiver on his first day of practice at Northwestern. But he said the coaches quickly realized he didn't have good catching hands, so he was moved to the linebacker corps the very next day. The linebacker coach gave him the nickname, "Kamikaze-Linebacker."

Sato strives to give the best of his knowledge to each team member at every practice. He wants to share what he's learned with the players so that they can build on it in life and in football. His coaching philosophy is that the game is 90% mental, 10% talent, but always 100% on the effort. "Believe that you are here to win," Sato said. "There is no other option but to win."

"So, I want to help others learn about life now and eternal life through fellowship."

Josh Burton

Junior High Head Coach

In his fifth year at the helm of the Junior High team, Josh Burton continues to develop athletic excellence in his players while building men of character. In so doing, he carries on the legacy set in place by his father, Dick Burton, who established the Christ Prep football program in 2003.

Burton is the youngest of eight sons, and he has two sisters. His mom homeschooled all 10 children and his father created this program for his sons. Five of their eight sons played football for Christ Prep, including Josh.

After his varsity career at Christ Prep, Burton went on to play for Highland Community College and Greenville College as an offensive lineman. Burton was the captain of the Christ Prep football team in 2008 and 2009. And he took that inclination to lead with him to college.

In Greenville, Illinois, Burton coached a fifth-grade football team for one year. He also volunteered in a program for at-risk youth in the Greenville community.

As head coach of the Junior High team, Burton devotes his time to helping his players learn to take on fear and adversity, because life inevitably brings adversity. "I want to help young men learn how to take on their adversity," Burton said. "Too many people try to avoid adversity, and I want to help them tackle adversity head-on in a Christ-like manner."

His aim is to combat what could be seen as a general passivity among young men in our society. "As Christians we're called to be violent in the right way," Burton said. This can be exemplified on the football field.

He teaches his players to strive for excellence in their football skills and focus. "As Christians we are called to a higher standard to live by," Burton said. "I believe that standard should be applied not only to the big areas of our lives, but in every area."

Burton works full time in sales, and enjoys video editing and digital media production. But he remains dedicated to his role as a football coach for Christ Prep. "God does not ask for part of us," Burton said. "He asks for all of us."

"Too many people try to avoid adversity, and I want to help them tackle adversity head-on in a Christ-like manner."

Tyrone Parrish

Junior High Assistant Coach

At the top of his seventh season coaching the Junior High team, Tyrone Parrish exudes positivity on and off the football field. He fleshes out a life of perseverance for his players. "Never giving up," is what faith means to him. "I never gave up in life," Parrish said. "I always pushed through and refused to give up with my faith."

When Parrish was born, his mom disowned him and his dad was in prison. He grew up in the inner city, living with his grandma and 12 cousins in one house. Having grown up without a male role model, he knows how important they are for young men. And he has resolved to step in and give that gift to his players. "Growing up without a positive role model and now being able to be one is a plus for me," Parrish said.

For five years he volunteered his time with Freedom Fire Urban Ministries, a mission organization in the inner city of Kansas City.

"When the opportunity to coach for Christ Prep came along, I wrestled with God about leaving the inner city, because that was where I felt called at the time," Parrish said. "But now I can see God's hand in these boys' lives." Parrish enjoys the brotherhood and the togetherness among the coaches and players at Christ Prep. His desire for the players is that, "These boys grow up to be men and never give up."

Football has played a part in Parrish's personal life as well. A couple years ago after choir practice at his church he was talking about Christ Prep and being part of the football team. A very special young woman named Liz overheard him. "When I heard him talking about football it sparked my interest," she said. "I grew up in Texas so football was everything," Liz said. She asked Parrish about his involvement at Christ Prep and they hit it off and began dating.

When she needed clarity about pursuing a long-term relationship with Parrish, it was a Christ Prep family member who provided confirmation for Liz.

The sister of two former players ran into Liz at a coffee shop and told her what a positive influence Parrish has been in her family. "She told me I couldn't have picked a better man," Liz said. Parrish proposed to Liz on the football field after a home game last year. The couple is getting married as soon as the 2019 season wraps.

"Growing up without a positive role model and now being able to be one is a plus for me."

Steve Stone

Junior High Assistant Coach

This is Steve Stone's second year as a coach. He and his wife, Kellie, have been active parent volunteers for the program for the past two years. You've probably seen them managing apparel and helping out everywhere from the trailer to the P.I.T. tent.

When Stone learned the Junior High team was in need of an administrative coach, he prayerfully considered taking on the role. As the father of eight children 16 and under, his time is precious. But it's also evident that he has the heart of a servant.

"I'm always looking for ways I can help the program," Stone said. "Christ Prep has been a big part of our family acclimating to the Kansas City area. Now that I have the opportunity to give back, I will. If I can bring glory to God and help the program at the same time, it's a win-win."

Stone plans to focus on the equipment and administration needs for the Junior High team. "I'll be able to help the players when they have problems with their equipment," he said. "And the other coaches can continue with practice."

Coaching for Stone is as much about his faith in God as it is about football. He hopes to help players grow in maturity, both spirituality and in football skills. "Ultimately it's about seeing growth," he said. "In Junior High it's about confidence in who they are."

Learning they can actually tackle, hit, and carry the ball will help them develop confidence as players and young men." Experience builds confidence, according to Stone. To that point, the Junior High coaching staff is working to implement a rotation system to offer all players opportunities to play in games.

Stone plans to oversee game substitutions this season. "We really value getting the younger players the experience, helping them learn and grow," he said.

Stone is the father of four girls and four boys. Right now his oldest son plays for Christ Prep, but he has three more sons in line who might play for the Patriots in the future. The youngest is only two years old, so Stone could potentially be involved with the program for many, many years to come.

"If I can bring glory to God and help the program at the same time, it's a win-win."

Fun Facts:

Coaching Philosophy

First I tell them, then I tell them what I told them, then I tell them one more time.

Game Strategy

Get good rest, hydrate, submit to God's will, and play for His glory.

Favorite Sports Team

Seattle Seahawks. Growing up in Oregon, people either rooted for the Seahawks or the 49ers.

Best Experience as a Coach

It's incredible to see the look on the guy's faces when they've been trying to execute a skill and they finally 'get it.' It's exciting to see the light bulb come on- they transform into different players after that.

Ewan Cornstubble

Junior High Assistant Coach

This is Ewan Cornstubble's second year coaching at Christ Prep. He played for the Patriots from 2014-18. His senior year he was a captain of the already-legendary team that fought together to win the 2018 NHFA National Championship. Still holding the national title, Cornstubble felt compelled to return to Christ Prep for the 2019 season.

"I feel like I'm answering God's call," he said. "Since the end of my sophomore year I've felt like coaching is what I'm supposed to do. I've been invested in this team for a long time. I've gotten to know the younger players and I know a lot of their stories. I wanted to see how they finish."

When Cornstubble started playing for Christ Prep in junior high, he said he would learn skills at practice then come home and teach them to his younger brother, Finn. "I've been coaching my brother since he was really young," Cornstubble said.

One might say leadership roles come naturally to him as he also helped with some of Finn's baseball practices and spent a couple years as an Awana game leader.

Since Finn is playing for the Junior High team this season, Cornstubble said it's been a good way to spend time with his brother. "I treat him as a player and he treats me as a coach," he said. "Sometimes after practices he'll ask me how he did and I'm honest with him. I tell him when he needs to be more aggressive."

As a coach Cornstubble wants to impart persistence to his players. "I don't want them to give up," he said. "I love being with the players helping them to be the best they can be. I've tried to do that since I was a player with the younger guys on the team."

Cornstubble is enrolled at Johnson County Community College and he's currently one class away from earning an Associate's degree.

His next step will be working toward his Bachelor of Science in Information Technology at the KU Edwards campus. He ultimately plans to work as a network administrator. "I've planned this all out so I can continue coaching at Christ Prep through college and into my career," he said.

"I feel like I'm answering God's call. Since the end of my sophomore year I've felt like coaching is what I'm supposed to do."

Past Player Profiles

Pete Burton

QB, Safety / 2003-2005

Pete Burton is another former standout on the Patriots team. A Safety and QB, who graduated in 2005, Pete now lives in Joplin, MO with his wife, Johnna.

Five years ago, Pete made the dramatic decision to become a professional musician, leading the group "Me Like Bees". Pete has been around the country with Me Like Bees and now has several albums. "My plan is to continue making this dream a reality," he explained. "It takes 10 years to become an overnight sensation and we're just over halfway there."

Pete says that he has been able to apply some of the lessons he learned in football with success in his band. "Football taught me to lead with integrity," he said. "Being in a band and traveling all over for weeks at a time presents all sorts of opportunities to fall short of what God has intended for you. Your character as a Christian is challenged on a daily basis."

It is with that lesson in mind that Pete would give the current players this message, "Listen to your coaches. There is a wealth of wisdom and knowledge between them, not only about football but in life as well. You would be doing yourself a great disservice if you don't try to learn all you can during the short time you have with them. Football was much less about winning and lot more about being the leader that God has called you to be."

Jon Thomas

RB, WR, Returner / 2003-2007

Jon Thomas played for the patriots and graduated in 2007. He was a running back, wide receiver and return specialist.

Jon works for JE Dunn as a superintendent trainee. Even though he no longer plays football, he says lessons learned on the football field help with his career path. "Football has shown me how to focus on playing MY PART on a team," he explained. "Whether that is in a team sport or my team at work. I need to do the best I can at what I've been assigned so that the team has the best chance to succeed." After graduating,

Jon took his talents to Pitt State University where he played another 4 years. In 2011 Jon returned a kick for a touchdown, sealing the national championship for the Gorillas. Despite all the success Jon found at college football, he still has good memories of playing in high school. "Playing in Tennessee every year is my favorite memory," he said.

As for the current team, Jon encourages them to work hard and make the most of every situation. "I wish I would have practiced harder," he said. "I regret not fully taking advantage of every opportunity I had to get better."

As for now, Jon just wants to be faithful at JE Dunn and have some kids one day. "I'll eventually have some kids that I can train up to love the LORD, serve people, and dominate their competition in whatever sport they play."

Elisha Stegner

Elisha Stegner, 2005 graduate, spent a large part of his adolescent life in the athletic world. He played college football for three years after leaving Christ Prep and even joined the cheerleading team his senior year.

Stegner lives and works in Los Angeles where he helps run a ministry called 'Calling all Skaters.' They started with the vision of discipling young people in the skate culture, most of whom come from very broken homes and live in an extremely dark environment. 'Our mission is to call all skateboarders to know and follow Christ,' Stegner said he and his team are currently focusing on the hubs of the skateboarding world in Los Angeles, Barcelona, Spain and Southeast China.

Elisha is in charge of the pastoral care of the staff around the world as well as serving as the CFO of the non-profit area of the ministry. He also serves as a life coach to the leaders in and around the ministry.

Elisha explained how he uses what he learned on the football field in his ministry. 'Coming from a homeschooling background without a lot of social interaction, playing CPA football taught me a lot about the importance of strong relationships in life as well as helping me to discipline myself to grow in the things that I need to both physically and spiritually.'

C'mon, man! My grandma can run faster than that!

We knew early on that God had blessed you with a love & talent for sports. It has been a joy to watch you grow from the little boy who always had a ball in his hand (pretty much from birth) and would rather watch sports than cartoons, to the dedicated, talented athlete you are today. Beyond your athletic talents we are proud of the heart you have for Christ and the great role model you are for others. We are so proud of you and know God has an amazing life planned for you! We will ALWAYS be your biggest fans and you are forever in our prayers. Have an amazing season!

With all of our love,

CUB SCOUTING - Pack 3777 (ages 6-11)

In Cub Scouting, our boys explore a variety of adventures that help them learn about God's world and their role in God's kingdom. It's fun, hands-on learning and achievement that puts our boys in the middle of the action and prepares them for today – and for life. Pack 3777 likes to get the whole family involved with family pack events, like family camp, hayrides, service projects and more! Contact: KSPack3777@gmail.com

BOY SCOUTING - Troop 522 (ages 11-18)

The mission of Troop 522 is to train and equip our young men to be influential and effective Christian leaders in their world through the Biblically sound leadership of men and the Scouting program. Service, community engagement, spiritual growth and leadership development become increasingly important parts of the program as our young men lead and plan their own activities, including monthly campouts. Go Patriots!

JOSHUA, I SIGNED YOU UP FOR FOOTBALL TODAY...

The Grade School Years

Kindergarten

I signed you up for football today,
I held your hand along the way.

1st Grade

I signed you up for football today,
At me you did look back, "Go on, Son...it's OK".

2nd Grade

I signed you up for football today,
You ran ahead, and with your friends you did play.

3rd Grade

I signed you up for football today,
You wanted to play tackle to my dismay.

You've got to let a mom have time to let go a little bit,
And to get used to the idea of her son being hit.

"Hey Mom, how do you work these pads?"
"I don't know Son, we better get your Dad!"

4th, 5th & 6th Grade

I signed you up for football these days,
You found your spot at QB and made the plays.

The PATRIOTS Junior High Years

I signed you up for football today,
With new brothers you started to play.

As we drove home from practice,
I started to yell,
"Oh my goodness, what is that smell!"

When we got home, you opened your football bag,
I looked inside and started to gag!

The PATRIOTS Varsity Years

Freshman

I signed you up for football today,
"It'll be over before you know it, Mom!"
said the very wise Coach Jay.

Pep Rallies, Tailgate Parties, Caring for Coaches, Fun,
Parents pitched in at THE P.I.T.,
For you boys all this was done.

At season's end, you started to train,
Running, lifting, and throwing again.

PATRIOTS

Sophomore

I signed you up for football today,
On to practice in your blue truck,
you did drive your own way.

With size and strength starting to get behind you,
Your tackling was fierce and your confidence grew.

At season's end, you started to train,
Running, lifting, and throwing again.

Junior

I signed you up for football today,
Becoming a leader and more confident with each practice day.

After ring #2, your coaches said it was your turn,
For all your dedication and hard work you did to earn.

At season's end, you started to train,
Running, lifting, and throwing again.

Senior

I signed you up for football today,
It's the last time, I am not OK.

As I write this, I wipe off the tears,
Looking back and realizing how fast were these years!

All the running, lifting, and throwing was worth it all,
You got the chance to play your game with your brothers,
the game of football.

Wins, losses, championships and rings,
Those are all very hard-earned things.

This is why God brought you here,
To get more man training to persevere.

Through all the devotions and testimonies
you heard,
They reinforced what you have been taught through God's Holy Word.

I signed you up for football today,
A good man did God make you along the way!

I love you, Son!
Joshua's Mom (#7)

P.S. I will be back in five years or so,
With another son, who is already rarin' to go!
I'll sign him up for football one day and I'll sit,
Under a tent that I fondly call 'THE P.I.T.'

Ashton Roberts 67

Our prayer is for you to chase the Lord, grab hold of Him and never let go. He will never leave you or forsake you. He loves you with an everlasting love!

We love you, are so proud of you, and are excited to watch you play. Have fun, encourage others, and never give up!

Love, Dad, Mom, Marlee and Kennedy

Heavenly Father:

We bring our team before you
in this football endeavor.

Our desire is to play for You and honor You.

We pledge that, come what may, we resolve to bring our best effort on every play and leave the results to you.

We also pledge that we do not play for ourselves, but for these brothers standing next to us.

Take our Labor and multiply it, unite us, make us strong and give us victory!
