The NWHL 2020-2021 Season Cancellation

The Northwest Hockey League is officially cancelling the 2020-2021 season. This decision does not come easy. We had been holding out hope that we could have a fractional schedule along with a tournament. It has become clear that time has run out.

It is too early to make a determination on a spring season. The current COVID-19 conditions in Illinois and surrounding areas have shown signs of improvement. With that we need to navigate the multiple regions that comprise the NWHL landscape. Each region has their own Level/Phase. As a league we must also be cognizant of our members ability to participate.

We will schedule a meeting for mid February. We can then discuss where we find ourselves.

The Northwest Hockey League hopes that all stay healthy. We will come out on the other side of this pandemic and celebrate the game we love and our personal successes.

Best regards,

Northwest Hockey League Board
